The Scent of Green Papaya

Oscar Nominee for Best Foreign Language Film 1994

This visually stunning and atmospheric tale of pre-war Vietnam, as told through the eyes of a young servant girl, follows her life from age 10 to womanhood. Her observations of nature and the people she serves create a vibrant, resonant and revealing reflection of a culture influenced by both Eastern and Western traditions.

Ida

Oscar Nominee for Best Foreign Language Film 2014

Poland, 1962. Anna, an orphan brought up by nuns in the convent, is a novice. She has to see Wanda, the only living relative, before she takes her vows. Wanda tells Anna about her roots and both women start a journey not only to find their family's tragic story, but to see who they really are and where they belong. They question what they used to believe in and how they will both go on living.
