“Open Dialogues: Gen QueerZ”

A Film and Discussion on the Young, Queer Experience

June 23, 2:30 PM, In Person

In partnership with the Art and Culture Center/Hollywood, the Friends of the Stirling Road Branch Library will present this film and discussion on Sunday, June 25, 2:30PM, at the Center's documentary film, Open Dialogues: Gen QueerZ. This film was produced by the Art and Culture Center/Hollywood under the Direction of Freddy Rodriguez. Gen QueerZ was developed in association with Safe Schools South Florida, an LGBTQ student and educator advocacy nonprofit.

Gen QueerZ gives voice to college and university students who are among the first generation to be “out” while attending high school and living at home. Their stories reflect a diversity of gender identities, cultural backgrounds, and academic studies while exploring allyship, threats, and the dynamics of being out at home with family. Gen QueerZ also deconstructs what is considered “normal” in the gender spectrum and how being out is a form of activism that demarginalizes all queer people.
